TERMS AND CONDITIONS
DAYCARE & BOARDING AGREEMENT

got woof? is an open boarding/day care facility, because of this you must acknowledge there may be inherent risks such as but not limited to: transfer of illness, kennel cough, broken nails or pad injuries, escape and/or death.

You recognize the risk of injury to dogs in playgroups even when directly supervised. You authorize your dog to interact, under direct human supervision, with other dogs.

got woof? shall not be liable for any injuries to person(s) or dogs and/or property (i.e.: kennels, toys, collars, etc), escape and/or death.

You are solely responsible for any harm and/or damages caused by your dog to other animals, humans, or property.

If your dog needs to visit our veterinarian due to an emergency situation, you are liable for all costs associated with such visit regardless of if got woof? is able to contact you first (although attempts to contact will always be made).

Should your dog become ill, injured or deceased, or is suspected of being ill or injured, or if for any other reason veterinary care is indicated during the stay at got woof?, you authorize the facility to seek and provide veterinary care from the closest available veterinary clinic and are responsible for all veterinarian charges associated with treatment(s).

Dog Abandonment: while got woof? understands owners may be late or forget (oops!) to pick up their dogs, abandonment will not be tolerated. If your dog is left after hours, he/she will be kenneled for the night and you will be charged our boarding fee. You must understand that if you abandon your doggie at got woof?, we will become the legal owner of your pet after 5 days if no willingness or plans to pick up the dog have been made.

got woof? reserves the right to crate/kennel your dog at any time while at the facility. Kenneling can be used for behavioral issues, resting/sleeping or any other reason got woof? staff sees fit.

By signing below you acknowledge you have read and agree with all terms and conditions of this contract. You also agree that all information provided is complete, accurate and to the best of your knowledge.
